501	All Saints Church churchyard Saxon or older sacred mounded site, the present church dating from late 12 th century, restored 1683, damaged by lightning 1755. 19 th century alterations and additions. Listed Grade II*. The churchyard provides part of its setting as defined by Historic England for Planning purposes. Churchyard surrounded by ironstone retaining wall; niche with War Memorial, itself Listed Grade II, at west corner. Mostly managed grass and flowerbeds, seats; headstones (including some Swithland Slate from 18 th century) are a resource for family history research. Areas of rough grass, ornamental trees including deciduous, coniferous, yews. Good range of typical churchyard birds including 3 BAP spp.; bats, invertebrates. Provides a tranquil open space at the centre of the village; the spire is a landmark from outside the settlement and an important viewpoint within it	4	4	3	4	2	2	2	4	3	28
